Connecting adults with a lifetime of experience to school-based volunteer opportunities

Interested in:

- A project coordinator role
 - Which implements and improves partnerships between schools and neighboring businesses or
 - Recruits and manages reading tutors?
- A bi-weekly living allowance
 - Which provides up to $4,804 in total for a 10 – 12 months term of service?
- An education awards
 - Which provides an education award up to $2,150 for post-high school tuition or student loans. The education award can be passed on to your child or grand-child if you are 55 or older when you start your term of service. This is not a cash award but a “credit on the books”?

“I recommend it as a way to have positive new experiences, meet new people and add value.”

Implement or improve partnerships between schools and neighborhood businesses:

As a coordinator in this role you will engage businesses in the school you are placed at with the goal to:

- Better prepare students for the workplace and opportunities of continued education
- Have volunteers from the businesses put on seminars and conduct mock interviews
- Create service, internship, and job shadowing opportunities for students

Recruit and manage reading tutors:

As a coordinator in this role you will be vital to the success of a school-based reading tutor program by:

- Assisting in outreach and presentations to recruit additional tutors
- Being the primary contact between volunteer tutors, designated school staff, and other program staff
- Coordinate volunteer tutor schedule and administer service logs and data collection
